

Estonian Society for Analytical Psychology invites to open lectures on erotic transference/countertransference, narcissism and sexual identities

Martin Schmidt, MBPsS, Jungian Training Analyst of the Society of Analytical Psychology, London

24.-25. April 2020

Hotel L'Ermitage Conference Center, Tallinn

Biography

Martin Schmidt, MBPsS, is a Jungian Training Analyst of the Society of Analytical Psychology, London. He has worked as a psychologist and psychotherapist in psychiatric rehabilitation for over 20 years with patients suffering from psychosis, narcissistic and borderline personality disorders. Until August 2019, he was the Honorary Secretary of the International Association for Analytical Psychology (IAAP) and its Regional Organizer for Central Europe.

He teaches and supervises widely both in the UK and internationally. His paper 'Psychic Skin: psychotic defences, borderline process and delusions' (JAP, Feb 2012, Vol 57, no 1) won the Fordham prize for best clinical paper in 2012 and was nominated for the Gradiva award by the National Association for the Advancement of Psychoanalysis in New York in 2013.

Programme

Friday, April 24th 2020

17.00-20.00 Erotic transference/countertransference

This seminar will explore the dynamics of erotic transference and counter-transference in the clinical encounter from both Jungian and Freudian perspectives. Particular consideration is given to the difference between eroticized and erotic transference and how this conceptual distinction can support our understanding of how to work with the erotic.

Saturday, April 25th 2020

10.00-11.30 Narcissism

This seminar will explore the development of the concept of narcissism and how it has come to underpin our understanding of all pathology. Particular attention is given to an understanding of narcissistic personality disorder and how to work with this condition analytically. Drawing upon Freud's seminal paper on 'Narcissism an introduction' (1914) and the myth of Echo and Narcissus, archetypal transference dynamics of working with narcissism are examined.

11.30-11.45 Coffee break

11.45-13.30 Sexual Identities

This seminar explores the centrality of sexuality in the formation of identity. Consideration is given to understanding the relationship between biological sex, gender identity and sexual orientation in clinical practice. Using case examples, some of the dynamics inherent in working with diverse sexual identities in analysis are examined.

Information and registration

These lectures are intended for Jungian analysts, psychoanalysts, trainees, students, psychotherapists and for everyone interested. The working language is English. Conference hall seats up to 50 persons.

Date and Time: Friday April 24th, 2020 to Saturday 25th

Location: Hotel L'Ermitage Conference Center

Address: Toompuiestee 19, Tallinn, Estonia

Prices:

Early registration (until 29 February, 2020):

Full lectures (first and second lecture days):

- Members of EAPS and FEGAP 50 EUR
- Others - 75 EUR
- Jungian candidates, students 25 EUR

One lecture day only: 50 EUR

Registration after 29 February, 2020:

Full lectures (first and second lecture days):

- Members of EAPS and FEGAP 75 EUR
- Others - 100 EUR
- Jungian candidates, students 50 EUR

One lecture day only: 75 EUR

Registration deadline is April 13th, 2020. For registration and invoice please send an e-mail to Heidi Reiljan, heidi.reiljan@junganalyys.ee

* Coffee breaks are included, lunch is not provided.

 Painting: Edvard Munch "Cupid and Psyche" (1907)